Short Introduction

I was born in Trabzon into a moderately middle-class, conservative Muslim family with limited educational background. I have one younger brother with a disability. I completed my primary education in my hometown before attending Rize Anatolian Teachers High School for my secondary education.

I earned my bachelor's degree in Computer Engineering from Koç University in Istanbul as a non-scholarship student. During my final semester, I had the opportunity to study abroad at Bordeaux Management School in France, which marked my first meaningful exposure to different cultures and international experiences.

Throughout my childhood and teenage years, I actively helped my family run a series of small businesses, which instilled in me a strong work ethic and sense of responsibility. After university, I began my professional journey as a software engineer and later took on team lead roles in various countries, including Türkiye, the United States, and Germany.

Turkish is my native language, and I am fluent in English. I can barely understand German.

Volunteering

2008 – 2013

- Served as a programming tutor for university students with no prior coding experience, helping them build a strong foundation in computer science.
- Actively participated in organizing events across various student clubs, including management, drama, and computer science.
- Led fundraising initiatives and organized events aimed at creating opportunities and providing support for underprivileged children.

2013 - 2023

- Hosted and guided numerous international visitors in Istanbul, primarily through CouchSurfing, offering cultural insights and local experiences.
- Acted as a mentor, providing early career and life guidance across various organizations and workplaces.
- Organized events and served as a cultural guide within international friendship groups, primarily composed of expatriates.
- Delivered talks at educational and software-related events, sharing knowledge and experiences with diverse audiences.

Current Status

I'm unemployed, with a small amount of financial debt.

I am seeking a team or organization where I can contribute my skills (gifts) toward a shared purpose.

Activism

- Present: I firmly stand against unjust governance and the misconduct of political leaders.
- 2023 – I highlighted unfair workplace decisions to highlight systemic political injustices, including those present in Germany. Consequently, I endured both workplace intimidation from my managers and acts of violence by some government officers.
- 2023 - 2024 – Although I am personally anti-war, I fulfilled my mandatory military service in Türkiye to be able to continue my life there. During this time, I experienced mistreatment and violence by some military officers.
- 2023–2025 – I have undertaken numerous personal challenges to intentionally cultivate deep empathy with everyone. Each experience helped me gain greater insight into the complexities of [human] nature and the subtle patterns within the natural world.

Social Causes

Fairness (Equality) & Freedom within nature:

- Education
- Climate change, healthcare, mental health, longevity
- Inequality, discrimination, poverty, rights of every living being

Personal Experience in Social Causes

I began sharing my insights under the title "Nature's Mysteries & Gifts."

Articles: <https://medium.com/@ebsaral>

I explore and share insights into what nature reveals about human potential and well-being. Through concise summaries, I aim to illuminate topics such as:

- The root causes of illness and how we might prevent all diseases by aligning with natural principles better.
- The need for a fair and nature-informed logical approach to education that nurtures every individual's true potential.
- How we develop our abilities (talents) —both consciously and unconsciously— and the ways we influence one another's growth.
- The nature of luck: how it arises, how it's shaped by our environments, and how we can help unlock it universally.
- What the future of nature —and our place within it— will look like.

Throughout rich and deep life experiences, I've learned a lot and gained numerous natural gifts.

My Natural Gifts

Water as a Life Source & Protection

Water transforms to meet nature's needs thus mine, driven by choices of living beings. And, any damage caused in and around my life willingly goes back to the responsibilities much stronger within nature. This way I can reach my goals without worrying about possible roadblocks.

Harmonizing with Nature

I feel some natural movements along with their sounds deeply before they begin — like dancing with destiny through invisible threads. So nothing is a coincidence anymore as it was before. This enables me to have a great vision in any topic.

Some natural movements: Weather conditions, earthquakes, crashes, natural disasters, the movements of people and animals, any object's movement, any pressure on any object, etc...

Object movement examples:

- I can feel what another person feels in their body; how much it hurts and where it hurts.
- I can feel the tension on a car's parts; where it requires a repair and how serious it is.
- Any decision being taken anywhere, even if they are taken behind closed doors or in the middle of nowhere. This only works if I'm allowed to know something.
So, I don't (and can't) know everything. Nature also has privacy in its being.
- When I'm in traffic, I can feel what other drivers are about to do — like signaling or turning. Then I know if I should adjust my speed or make a turn. I can also sense when a pedestrian is about to cross or when the road ahead is clear enough to speed up. I can also navigate to any desired location without the need of current technology but it usually makes my route longer.

Sometimes I feel movements days before they happen due to the lack of having good exceptions in certain environments. I mostly don't focus on a lot of movements.

Timeless Empathy

I sense the spirits (beings) of those from the past or future (mostly unconsciously), channeling their presence in my expressions. I can empathize with anyone directly or indirectly.

Example: When I speak on a random subject or move within an unrelated context, my spirit may begin to reflect the person you're thinking about. My body language might even shift to mirror their familiar behaviors. Though I'm mostly aware of it as it happens, I also know deep down that your thoughts are with someone else. Sometimes I may guess who that person is, and this is mostly fun.

Doing empathy with someone doesn't necessarily mean that I agree with their actions, yet everybody is free to choose their actions in nature.

Rapid Learning

I quickly master new topics and skills with little effort once focused. I feel motivated and move better in an environment where I can pursue my interests and goals within mutual respect and trust.

Cumulative Energy & Creative Inspiration

I feel the life force of others around me in both near and far distance. This allows me to dance or move for hours and possibly uplift and inspire their spirits. Sensing other living beings, I combine their spirits to spark fresh, creative ideas and solutions for all problems within nature's guidance. In every movement or speech I make, you have a chance to learn something about yourself or your environment.

As a master puppet in the world of puppets, I enable other people to get better: I simply inspire everyone's being by introducing new (existing) perspectives into their mindsets with my experienced empathy, talent and knowledge. The details make every life more meaningful.

My talents and knowledge also get inspired by people around me. So I give what I learn from them back to nature's being in a multi-directional education cycle. People around me naturally become more creative, innovative, supportive and motivated.

Healthy Mind and Body

A priceless balance, beyond money, rooted in ancient wisdom. In simple words: I don't get sick and I can't be poisoned.

Any possible harmful action towards me gets a warning or blocking from nature's being until there is no threat anymore.

Example:

If somebody is going or planning to harm me, their body cells attack them first in the form of a warning. Every harm caused against me turns into a protection. If I am not dead, I become much stronger.

I know all these gifts sound magical to you while it's not a surprise for me anymore. If you would like to witness the validity of my gifts, feel free to try me with honesty and goodwill.

Note: There's no psychological or scientific trick behind my actions. I simply move or try to move with mostly good intentions. I don't have any intention to harm anyone. Some gifts evolve in time.

Warning as a friendly reminder: Your actions (every choice you make) will be rewarded or punished by your own body cells.

Caution: Every living being is subject to the subtle influence of nature — an unstoppable force beyond the reach of any known intelligence. Nature already knows the entirety of who you are, just as you instinctively sense it does. Any misuse of power for harmful intent will inevitably lead to consequences, unfolding slowly but surely over time. Nature can fool your feelings if it's misused.

Tip: Obstructing any being from fulfilling nature's purpose will inevitably lead to harmful consequences. That's why you must not ignore your responsibility — regardless of your title, occupation, or reputation.

Remember, you also potentially have all these gifts and more visibly hidden in your journey. So, testing my gifts (talents) instead of trying (seeing) them might possibly deceive your own intention(s), and that choice isn't mine to make. These gifts exist in every living being.

Short and Long Term Goals

- Continue my career as a guide (lead) within an organization to tackle systematic injustice and environmental challenges.
- Start a global initiative for Logical Spirituality (equality & freedom) that helps humanity clearly see the workings of natural selection.
- Deepen collaborative understanding of nature in detail while contributing to innovative approaches in education.
- Contribute to solving all kinds of challenges (problems) for a fair and healthy future.
- Improve my talents to influence politics and pursue my career as a political leader.
